MDL No. 2868

DEFENDANTS BAYER HEALTHCARE PHARMACEUTICALS INC., BAYER CORP., AND BAYER HEALTHCARE LLC'S SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFFS'
MOTION FOR TRANSFER OF ACTIONS PURSUANT TO 28 U.S.C. § 1407

In anticipation of the Panel’s upcoming hearing, Bayer hereby supplements its opposition to Plaintiffs’ Motion for Transfer (the “MDL Motion”) to inform the Panel of recent developments. When Cutter Law filed this MDL Motion, it was counsel for every served action at issue. Now, Cutter Law, its various local counsel, and one other firm have since tagged additional actions, creating a façade of diversity among counsel.¹ Three of these firms, none of whom have had any lead involvement in this years-old litigation, filed “interested party” statements to join the MDL Motion in the past few weeks. Plaintiffs suggest that these new developments support creation of an MDL and transfer to a particular venue. In fact, these efforts are nothing more than veiled gamesmanship.² None undermine the conclusion that:

- Plaintiffs’ alleged injuries remain diverse, highlighting the absence of a core commonality among the cases. Indeed, Plaintiffs concede that each litigant’s constellation of alleged injuries varies. See Movants’ Reply p.6;
- Informal coordination remains feasible, with a single plaintiff firm (Cutter Law) still controlling nearly all filed actions. Plaintiffs refuse to acknowledge successful coordination and progress in currently-pending cases, including Bayer’s production of hundreds of thousands of pages of documents, and the parties’ efforts to schedule 30(b)(6) depositions next month, in the three cases in the District of Arizona. See 8/30/18 Pierik Resp. (Dkt. No. 50) p.10 (claiming that “nothing of substance has happened (or will happen) in the District of Arizona anytime soon”); and
- Notwithstanding Plaintiffs’ counsel’s speculation about thousands of unidentified potential litigants, the actual number of cases presently before the Panel (naming four different gadolinium-based contrast agents (“GBCAs”) with different retention rates³ manufactured by four different defendants) remains readily manageable without the need for MDL centralization.

² Indeed, one newly-tagged (and as-yet-unserved) action, filed by a debuting law firm mere weeks before the Panel’s hearing, references Cutter Law’s MDL Motion in the first paragraph of the Complaint. See 09/07/18 Compl. p.1 ¶ 1, Dkt. No. 1, Dennis v. Bayer Healthcare Pharmaceuticals Inc., et al., No. 3:18-cv-491 (W.D.N.C.) (“This is one of many similar cases pending in United States District Courts throughout the country, and for which an MDL motion for transfer and centralization was filed with the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation on July 31, 2018.”).

In sum, these recent developments confirm that Plaintiffs’ request to create a catch-all MDL encompassing all claimed “adverse events in patients with normal kidney function” after clinical administration of GBCAs should be denied, at the very least, as premature. 8/30/18 Pierik Resp. (Dkt. No. 50) p.7. Moreover, even if the Panel is inclined to grant the motion over Defendants’ unanimous objections, Plaintiffs’ recent forum manipulation, for instance, filing actions by out-of-state plaintiffs to bolster the number of D. Mass. cases, should not be credited by the Panel as a reason to site any MDL there.

I. ARGUMENT

A. Individualized Questions of Fact Overwhelm Any Common Issues

In their recent filings, Plaintiffs effectively concede that their proposed catch-all MDL knows no bounds: they endeavor to capture all claimed “adverse events in patients with normal kidney function” involving four different GBCAs manufactured by four different defendants – each with different product retention rates.⁴ 8/30/18 Pierik Resp. (Dkt. No. 50) p.7. And Plaintiffs do not deny the vagueness, and sweeping range, of each claimant’s alleged injuries. Indeed, they admit that the constellation of alleged injuries varies from case to case. See Bayer Opp. Ex. 1; Movants’ Reply p.6 (conceding that Plaintiffs exhibit a “constellation of symptoms”).⁵ The resultant individualized medical causation issues, fact discovery, and expert discovery would consume any superficial commonalities. See In re Proton-Pump Inhibitor Prod. Liab. Litig., 273 F. Supp. 3d 1360, 1362 (J.P.M.L. 2017) (denying centralization of 15 actions and 24 tagalongs and finding that “the variety of kidney injuries alleged, combined with these differences among the drugs, significantly undermines any efficiency gains to be achieved from centralization”).

Plaintiffs’ recent filings underscore that individualized issues would eliminate any efficiencies typically realized by consolidation.⁶ For example, Plaintiffs do not dispute that findings regarding the Combs Plaintiff’s alleged symptoms – including high cholesterol, fatigue, a thickened uterus, and stomach polyps – would have no bearing on the Sabol Plaintiff’s allegations of dry eyes and mouth, vertigo, and muscle contractions. This lack of commonality can be observed across all of the cases. See Bayer Opp. pp.9-10; Bayer Opp. Ex. 1. Thus, Plaintiffs’ concerns about duplication and inconsistency are unfounded: fact and expert discovery will be driven by each plaintiff’s unique configuration of alleged injuries.⁷ No meaningful discovery tracks could be created given each plaintiff’s distinct combination of alleged injuries from different products made by different defendant manufacturers.⁸ Plaintiffs' proposed MDL remains unworkable, and consolidation would only slow the resolution of these highly individualized cases.

⁵ Plaintiffs’ own citations do not support their contention that a rejection of their request to transfer would mean “there would be nearly no mass tort centralizations.” Movants’ Reply p.6. For example, In re Phenylpropanolamine Products Liab. Litig., Movants’ Reply p.7, involved a narrow, unified injury recognized by the greater medical community: hemorrhagic stroke. See 04/06/01 Motion for Transfer pp.1-3, Dkt. No. 1, In re PPA Prods. Liab. Litig., MDL No. 1407. And the Agent Orange conditional transfer order sending a case into a nearly 20-year old MDL had nothing to do with whether consolidation was warranted in the first place. Finally, In re: Gadolinium Contrast Dyes bears no relation to the instant action for all of the reasons detailed in Bayer’s brief, not least of which, it dealt with one, unified injury – NSF. See Bayer Opp. p.16.

⁶ Plaintiffs try to gloss over these differences by claiming “some plaintiffs are sicker than others” Movants’ Reply p.6. But Plaintiffs do not allege a common “sickness” with different levels of severity. They each allege a different patchwork of injuries untethered to a common medically-recognized disease.

B. Any Superficial Commonalities Can Be Addressed by Informal Coordination

Plaintiffs' latest speculation about hypothetical conflicts that have yet to occur does not warrant consolidation. 09/10/18 Brown Resp. (Dkt. No. 70) p.6. Notably absent is any suggestion that the parties have failed to coordinate thus far: Cutter Law does not identify a single instance where the parties were unable to coordinate effectively. And the interested party respondents have not come close to exhausting all other alternatives before embracing Cutter Law's MDL Motion. These counsel either had not served Bayer until well after the MDL Motion was filed or still have not served Bayer to date. See In re Express Courier Int'l, Inc., Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) & Wage & Hour Litig., No. MDL 2854, 2018 WL 3725839, at *1 (J.P.M.L. Aug. 1, 2018) ("While, as plaintiffs argue, thirteen courts are not obligated to adopt a discovery schedule agreed to by the parties, the parties should attempt such informal means of coordination before resorting to Section 1407 centralization." (emphasis added)); In re Best Buy Co., Inc., California Song-Beverly Credit Card Act Litig., 804 F. Supp. 2d 1376, 1378 (J.P.M.L. 2011) ("[C]entralization under Section 1407 should be the last solution after considered review of all other options."). Plaintiffs' transfer request is, at minimum, premature.

Plaintiffs have also failed to identify any overlapping discovery incapable of being addressed by informal coordination between the parties. Plaintiffs instead drum up illusory commonalities like the FDA's 2018 class-wide product label change and the related "Dear

Healthcare Provider” letter. See, e.g., 08/30/18 Pierik Resp. (Dkt. No. 50) p.3. But discovery on these undisputed developments will not be particularly complex, and certainly does not overcome over the individualized nature of Plaintiffs’ disparate cases. See, e.g., In re Abbott Labs., Inc., Similac Prods. Liab. Litig., 763 F. Supp. 2d 1376 (J.P.M.L. 2011) (denying centralization where “Plaintiffs’ claims share[d] facts concerning Abbott’s recall of certain Similac products because of the presence of beetles and/or beetle larvae, which according to the FDA posed no immediate health risk” since “these facts are relatively undisputed”).

C. Given the Few Involved Counsel, Informal Coordination Is Preferable

Nor do the new, strategically-timed-and-placed tagged lawsuits preclude informal coordination. Despite Plaintiffs’ counsel’s repeated efforts to portray diversity among counsel, nearly all of the proposed MDL actions are brought by one firm: Cutter Law.

Cutter Law’s Cases			Cutter Law’s Directly Affiliated Counsel’s Cases ⁹	New Counsel’s Cases
Davis	Gerrity	Walton	Viruet/Pierik (same firm)	Peterson/Brown
Munnuru	Goodell	Hollifield	Lewis/Welty (same firm)	(same firm)
Fischer	McGrath	Doe		Dennis
Geisse	Zelazny	Klein		Carney
Young	Combs	Miller
Winkler	Norris	Esserman
Sabol	Javens	Montani

No one disputes that every manufacturer is represented by the same counsel. Nor does any party disagree that Cutter Law has led every active case so far.¹⁰ If anything, these actions initiated after Cutter Law’s MDL Motion, after Defendants’ oppositions were filed, and mere weeks before the JPML hearing, bespeak a desire to manufacture an MDL to serve counsel’s own goals rather than § 1407's stated goals of convenience for the parties and witnesses, justice, and efficiency. See In re CVS Caremark Corp. Wage & Hour Emp't Practices Litig., 684 F. Supp. 2d 1377, 1379 (J.P.M.L. 2010) ("where a Section 1407 motion appears intended to further the interests of particular counsel more than those of the statute, we would certainly find less favor with it").

⁹ White (not listed) is a pro se NSF case. See Bayer Opp. p.10. Cutter Law’s “directly affiliated” counsel serve as its co-counsel in other actions included in the MDL motion. See Bayer Opp. p.12 n.11.

¹⁰ The only firm to disavow affiliation with Cutter Law, Davis & Crump, does not disclaim working in concert with Cutter Law. See, e.g., 09/10/18 Brown Resp. (Dkt. No. 70) p.5.

Informal coordination remains preferable. Defendants stand ready and willing to coordinate informally with any new counsel joining the litigation after the MDL Motion was filed – as they have done with Cutter Law for nearly two years. Bayer Opp. p.15. No party has given a reason why cooperative efforts between the parties cannot and should not continue.

D. Plaintiffs' Forecasts of Future Filings Merit No Consideration

Plaintiffs' counsel's post-Motion predictions of thousands of future plaintiffs are a red herring. As an initial matter, any filing of more cases does nothing to cure the inherently individualized nature of these suits and their resulting unsuitability for MDL resolution. See supra pp.2-4; Bayer Opp. pp.9-11. Furthermore, counsel's unsubstantiated claim that additional law firms are waiting in the wings and "investigating" cases raises the question why no one has prosecuted these claims for the last two years.¹¹ It remains to be seen whether any of these cases will ever actually be filed outside of an MDL, and, if so, what new constellations of injuries these plaintiffs will allege. Presently, thirty actions have been identified for the Panel's consideration,¹² and, in any event, the Panel has consistently rejected hypothetical future filings as a basis for consolidation. See Bayer Opp. p.13.

E. If an MDL Is Formed Over All Defendants’ Objections, Plaintiffs’ Venue Manipulation Should Not Be Credited.

If centralization is ordered over Defendants’ unanimous objections, the Panel’s ultimate venue selection should not be steered by Plaintiffs’ counsel’s gamesmanship.

N.D. Cal.: Bayer previously detailed Cutter Law’s ongoing efforts to warehouse this litigation in that firm’s home district of N.D. Cal. Bayer Opp. pp.4-6, 15. Cutter Law or affiliated counsel have tagged two actions in N.D. Cal. after Defendants’ oppositions were filed, even though Cutter Law has moved to remand several of its cases for lack of federal jurisdiction. Further, Cutter Law has yet to explain how centralization in N.D. Cal. would be convenient for the firm’s own clients, Defendants, the witnesses, or anyone else beyond Cutter Law.

D. Mass.: The gamesmanship being employed in D. Mass. mirrors the improper strategy that posed serious jurisdictional issues in N.D. Cal.¹³ Plaintiffs have tagged two additional actions in D. Mass (Hollifield (still unserved) and Pierik) – both filed by Cutter Law or its Boston local counsel on behalf of out-of-state plaintiffs (from NC and IL respectively) against out-of-state Defendants in counsel’s preferred venue.

S.D. Ill.: The Welty and Brown interested party respondents’ request for transfer to Judge Staci M. Yandle in S.D. Ill. should be rejected. Plaintiffs depict this option as “centrally located and easily accessible,” and even represent that the courthouse is “located only 15.6 miles” from the St. Louis airport. 08/23/18 Welty Resp. (Dkt. 41) pp.3-4. But they neglect to mention that Judge Yandle’s chambers are not located in East St. Louis, but in Benton, Illinois (nearly 100 miles away). Transfer to this district would be highly inconvenient.

¹³ Notably, Goodell was the only served case pending in D. Mass. until the day the MDL Motion was filed. Pursuant to the parties’ agreed briefing schedule, Bayer has since moved to dismiss Goodell. See 09/10/18 Motion to Dismiss and Memo. in Support, Dkt. Nos. 54, 55, Goodell v. Bayer HealthCare Pharmaceuticals Inc., et al., No. 1:18-cv-10694 (D. Mass.).

D. Del. and S.D.N.Y.: Plaintiffs have not acknowledged, much less objected to, Bayer’s alternative S.D.N.Y. proposal. Like the District of Delaware, S.D.N.Y. would be far more convenient than Plaintiffs’ selections.¹⁴ Plaintiffs’ “slippery slope” argument against consolidation in D. Del. is unfounded, see Movants’ Reply p.9 (“virtually every MDL could be sent to Delaware . . .”), particularly since there are no MDLs currently pending in D. Del. More importantly, Plaintiffs do not defend their staunch rejection of Bayer’s open offer to transfer a significant number of these actions to D. Del. to cure jurisdictional defects. Bayer Opp. p.5.

II. CONCLUSION

For these reasons and for those stated in Bayer’s opposition brief, the Panel should deny Plaintiffs’ MDL Motion. Should the Panel form an MDL over Defendants’ objections, Bayer requests transfer of these actions to the Hon. Richard G. Andrews in the District of Delaware or, alternatively, the Hon. John G. Koeltl in the Southern District of New York.

¹⁴ Two of the interested party respondents even request that the entire litigation be transferred to judges with no pending relevant cases. It is unlikely that efficiencies would be gained over Bayer’s S.D.N.Y. or D. Del. proposals by uprooting these cases and transferring them to a judge with no prior involvement in the litigation.

Gadolinium

Gadolinium-based contrast agents have been used for diagnosis and treatment guidance in more than 100 million patients worldwide over the past 25 years. These agents enhance the quality of images in MRI exams by altering the magnetic properties of nearby water molecules in the body. In September of 2017 the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) announced it will require additional warnings for gadolinium-based contrast agents (GBCAs) after new research has found accumulation of residual gadolinium in the brains of patients who had undergone multiple contrast-enhanced MRI exams resulting in serious injuries. The most common type of injury includes a rare disease called Nephrogenic Systemic Fibrosis (NSF), also known as Nephrogenic Fibrosing Dermopathy (NFD) along with Gadolinium storage condition and Gadolinium deposition disease. Symptoms include brain fog, skin burning sensation, bone and joint pain, and discoloration, thickening and pain of the skin. This litigation focuses on a particular type of contrast agent marketed by Bayer, GE, and others without warning despite a known safer alternative.
